Conference Program

Ben Metcalf - Principal, Stronger Foundations, LLC; Former Director, California Department of Housing & Community Development

California Dreaming? The Opportunities and Obstacles of New State Laws in Furthering Fair Housing

In this talk, Ben Metcalf will overview how new ambitious state housing production targets and laws overriding local control on housing enhance and impede implementation of Assembly Bill 686, California's 2019 Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing Law, in the context of a post-COVID-19 new normal.

John A. Powell - Director of the Othering & Belonging Institute at UC Berkeley; Holds the Robert D. Haas Chancellor's Chair in Equity & Inclusion; Professor of Law, African American Studies, and Ethnic Studies, UC Berkeley

The Perils and Promises of Fair Housing

John Powell provides five decades of experience fighting for housing equity and fair housing. He will introduce new ways of thinking about fair housing using an opportunity-based framework, and how racialization and othering present barriers to opportunity in housing.

Anne E. Price - President, Insight Center for Community Economic Development

Advancing Racial, Gender, and Economic Justice in this Moment of Crisis

The COVID-19 crisis is illuminating the inequitable rules, policies and structures of our economy. The pandemic is quickly shedding light on how persistent racial wealth and income inequality leads to further economic marginalization of families of color and women in times of national emergency. Working towards structural change and centering the needs and plight of women and people of color is more important now than ever. We are now called to not only expose historical truths that continue to inflict harm but to also shine a light on systems of wealth extraction and barriers to accumulating assets as they are being built anew post COVID-19 pandemic. Anne will share why we must concentrate on undoing the root causes of racial wealth inequality by focusing on anti-Black racism, residential segregation and extractive corporate practices.
