

Leah Simon-Weisberg

Executive Director, California Center for Movement Legal Service

Leah Simon-Weisberg is an expert on rent control, landlord-tenant law, land use and anti-displacement policy. She is an adjunct professor at University of California, College of the Law, San Francisco, and teaches housing law. She regularly trains attorneys, government staff and electeds on landlord-tenant law. Leah drafted the Richmond Rent control ordinance which was the first ordinance that passed in almost 30 years for the City of Richmond sparking over 20 more cities to pass new ordinances. She is the chair of the elected Berkeley Rent Board. She presently is the executive director of California Center for Movement Legal Service.