Valerie Feldman is a staff attorney with The Public Interest Law Project (PILP) a statewide support center providing litigation, training, and technical assistance on land use and housing issues and public benefits. Valerie joined PILP after more than a decade at Legal Services of Northern California's Sacramento office. Valerie has pursued advocacy and litigation in multiple areas, including the preservation of federally subsidized housing, promoting and defending inclusionary zoning, housing element enforcement, fair housing, redevelopment law, the rights of public housing tenants, SRO residents, and tenants in condominium conversion properties. Valerie graduated from UC Davis School of Law in 2000 and has returned to King Hall several times to teach a housing law overview course. She served on the boards of the Legal Aid Association of California and Housing California, and currently serves on the board of the Sacramento Housing Alliance.
